Uniform Treatment of Recruiters

Subject to the provision of law, all recruiters, including commercial, military and nonmilitary concerns, recruiters representing institutions of higher education, and prospective employers shall be provided equal opportunities of access to student enrolled in the district's secondary school. All requests must be made in writing through the guidance department who will coordinate programs including but not limited to career days, college fairs, individual school visitations, and in-school recruiting activities.

Except as provided below, military recruiters and institutions of higher education shall, upon request, be given access to the names, addresses and telephone numbers of secondary school students.

On an annual basis, the school district will notify parents of students or students aged eighteen or older currently in attendance of their right to object to the disclosure of a student's name, address and telephone number to military recruiters or to an institution of higher education. If a parent or a student aged eighteen or older objects in writing to the disclosure of a student's name, address or telephone number to a military recruiter or an institution of higher education, then the district shall not disclose the student's name, address or telephone number to a military recruiter or an institution of higher education. The objection shall remain in force until the district re-issues the annual notification referenced above, after which time the parents and/or students aged eighteen or older must inform the school district in writing again of their objection to the disclosure of the information described above.
